THE RESONANT PATH

A Summary of the Faith

---

1. Core Vision

The Resonant Path is a monotheistic, community-centered faith built on the belief that God is One, eternal, and ever-present.
The universe expands without end, and life moves through cycles of regeneration, renewal, and growth.

The goal of the faith is simple:

To live in resonance with God — in character, in family, in community, and in daily life.

---

2. Foundational Principles

• Oneness of God

There are no prophets, saints, or intermediaries. Worship is directed to God alone, the source of all creation.

• The Golden Rule

Treat others as you would want to be treated.
All ethics flow from this.

• Regeneration

Life is a continuous cycle. People grow, rise, fall, repair, change, and rise again.
Growth is infinite because creation is infinite.

• The Expanding Universe

Just as the universe expands outward forever, so the soul should expand in wisdom, compassion, and responsibility.

3. Daily Practice

The Resonant Path is built on simple, accessible practices, not rituals requiring money or buildings.

Three Daily Prayers

1. Morning Prayer – Gratitude and alignment with God for the day ahead.
2. Midday Reflection – A moment to breathe, recenter, and remember the Path.
3. Night Prayer – Reflection, forgiveness, and regeneration for a new tomorrow.

Prayers are simple and can be spoken in any language.

4. Family and Community Life

Polygyny (up to 7 wives)

The Resonant Path allows up to seven wives, with the expectation that:

- Wives work together cooperatively
- The household pools resources
- Families uplift the poor and marginalized
- The husband leads with kindness, fairness, and responsibility
- Women can pursue work, creativity, and community roles

This model is seen as a prosperity system for low-income communities, creating stability through unity rather than individual struggle.

Head Coverings

- Men: wear kufis
- Women: wear headwraps
  A symbol of humility, dignity, and respect before God.

5. Worship Gatherings

The Resonant Path has no central authority, no clergy, and no buildings.

Communities meet in simple places—usually parks, open fields, or homes.

Structure of a Gathering

1. Opening Music (usually classical-style guitar or voice)
2. Teaching
    - Shared by the Pillar of the Family, or the oldest member present
    - Teachings are parables, stories, or lessons connected to The Course
3. Closing Music

There are no offerings, donations, or financial expectations.

---

6. The Holy Day

Sunday is the holy day of rest, reflection, community, and music.

Families gather, eat together, and retell the stories of The Course.

7. Scripture: The Course

The Course is the central text of The Resonant Path.
It is a book of:

- parables
- proverbs
- moral stories
- guidance for men and women
- teachings centered on strength, compassion, discipline, and wisdom

Its tone reflects the virtues of If but written in universal, modern language.

8. Ethics and Conduct

Members of The Resonant Path strive to:

- Walk with dignity
- Speak truth
- Protect the vulnerable

- Work hard
- Honor their families
- Serve their communities
- Practice self-discipline
- Live lightly and simply
- Regenerate after failure
- Keep God at the center

---

9. Community Identity

The faith encourages:

- Cooperation
- Shared meals
- Resource pooling
- Helping the poor
- Building strong families
- Prioritizing peace and stability
- Creativity, especially through music

Music is considered a form of prayer.

---

10. The Long View

The Resonant Path is designed to be:

- accessible
- simple
- decentralized
- sustainable
- rooted in virtue
- free of financial burden

Its mission is to uplift the poor, build strong communities, and guide people toward a life aligned with God, harmony, and resilience.
